Response:

The Department of Chemistry wants students to be able to continue participating in supervised teaching to enhance their undergraduate education, but this course should not be used as a means to "pad" an upper division GPA. Therefore, we want to make a 0 credit option available to our students so that their continued participation can be reflected in their transcript. We would also like to set a maximum of 6 total repeatable credits in CHM4940. Most students take it for 2 credits reflecting the amount of work they do as a teaching assistant allowing them to do this 3 times. If students want to participate beyond those 3 times, they would then have the 0 credit option as a possibility.
