Description of request	Students majoring in composition at New World School of the Arts currently take Applied Instrument Lesson for 1 credit at the upper level over 3 semesters. As a result, they fall short of the 6-credit total Applied Instrument Lesson UF requirement. To correct this, it is proposed to reduce the required credits for Applied Instrument Lessons from 6 to 3 total Applied Instrument Lesson credits. National Association of Schools of Music require NWSA Composition students to take at least 4 semesters in Applied Instrument Lessons combined, at the lower and upper levels. The proposed changes will meet this requirement.

Pedagogical Rationale/Justification

Describe the rationale for the proposed changes to the specialization.

Response:
Students majoring in composition at New World School of the Arts currently take Applied Instrument Lesson for 1 credit at the upper level over 3 semesters. As a result, they fall short of the 6-credit total Applied Instrument Lesson UF requirement. To correct this, it is proposed to reduce the required credits for Applied Instrument Lessons from 6 to 3 total Applied Instrument Lesson credits.

Increasing the elective requirements from 12 to 15 ensures that the upper division credit total remains at 60, once the Applied Instrument Lesson requirement is decreased.

Impact on Other Programs

*Survey of Music history II fulfills 1 humanity requirements for AA degree. The 2nd must be taken at the lower level.

Composition students accepted with piano as secondary instrument are exempt from class piano 1-4 based on audition proficiency.

Summary/Rationale of Proposed Changes:

1) Change Applied Instrument Lesson credits from 3 credits each over 2 semesters, to 1 credit each over 3 semesters at the upper division.

- Rationale: Students majoring in composition at New World School of the Arts currently take Applied Instrument Lesson for 1 credit at the upper level over 3 semesters. As a result, they fall short of the 6-credit total Applied Instrument Lesson UF requirement. To correct this, it is proposed to reduce the required credits for Applied Instrument Lessons from 6 to 3 total Applied Instrument Lesson credits.

2) Change the total required elective credits from 12 to 15 credits.

- Rationale: Increasing the elective requirements from 12 to 15 ensures that the upper division credit total remains at 60, once the Applied Instrument Lesson requirement is decreased.
