Major Name Education Sciences

Major Code EDS

Degree Program Name Bachelor of Arts in Education Sciences

Undergraduate Innovation Academy Program Yes

Effective Term Fall Effective Year 2020

Current Curriculum for Major Core Courses (15 credits)

EDF 3210 Educational Psychology (3 credits)

EDF 3604 Social Foundations of Education (3 credits)

EDF 4430 Measurement and Evaluation in Research (3 credits)

EEX 2000 Impact of Disabilities (3 credits)

EME 3813 Technology Enhanced Learning Environments (3 credits)

Proposed Curriculum Changes We are requesting the replacement of one core course (EDF 4430) with another course (EDF 3423). There are no changes to the critical tracking or Schools, Society, & Policy specialization courses required for the major. The new required curriculum will be:

Core Courses (15 credits)

EDF 3210 Educational Psychology (3 credits)

EDF 3604 Social Foundations of Education (3 credits)

EDF 3423 Educational Research Design (3 credits)

EEX 2000 Impact of Disabilities (3 credits)

EME 3813 Technology Enhanced Learning Environments (3 credits)

UF Online Curriculum Change Yes

Pedagogical Rationale/Justification This major has been in place for two academic years, and faculty have determined the new course would be a better fit to meet the needs of our students with a foundation of research design, knowledge, and skills.

Impact on Enrollment, Retention, Graduation This will not have an impact on enrollment, retention, or graduation.

Assessment Data Review The original course focused on measurement and evaluation, and the new course focuses on a research stage prior to that, Educational Research Design, which is a broader course and applicable to all students in the major. The original course, EDF 4430, will still be required of students in the Educational Psychology and Research specialization, and also available for students as an elective in the other specialization areas.

Overview

Across the country, graduates with education majors typically are prepared to teach in preschool through grade 12 settings. While many university students complete an education degree with teacher certification and begin teaching, others pursue graduate school or employment in fields where preparation in education is an asset. The BAES is appropriate for students interested in leading and supporting the design and implementation of learning environments, studying and informing education policy, optimizing e-learning, advocating for and developing accessible education options for citizens with disabilities, and supporting the learning and training missions of institutions in the modern economy.

BEFORE GRADUATING STUDENTS MUST

• Complete requirements for the baccalaureate degree, as determined by faculty.

STUDENTS IN THE MAJOR WILL LEARN TO

Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs)

Content

- 1. Explain foundational ideas and best practices in educational practices and policies, educational psychology, human exceptionalities, educational statistics and measurement, and educational technologies.
- 2. Apply foundational ideas and best practices to understand problems of practice and generate viable solutions in formal and informal education and training settings.

Critical Thinking

3. Enact goals for professional growth, ethical practices, and continuous improvement.

Communication

4. Communicate effectively in all forms in a professional environment, adapting appropriately for exceptionality and diversity among individuals.

ASSESSMENT TYPES

- Final projects
- Experiential learning experiences

This major is not a teacher or educator preparation program, rather an exploration of the educational and psychological foundations, research and policy as applied to instruction, learning, and professional development in school and community settings. Core courses serve as an introduction to the many fields of professional practice and research. Students may develop a General Studies curriculum or may choose a specialization in Disabilities in Society, Educational Psychology and Research, Educational Technology, or Schools, Society and Policy.

Graduates of the major would be prepared for a career in a government, non-profit, or education setting and for graduate studies. It would be appropriate for students interested in leading discussions about schools and education, informing policy, optimizing e-learning, advocating for accessibility, and supporting the mission of institutions of learning.

COURSEWORK FOR THE MAJOR

Students must complete 30 credits of coursework for the education sciences major to include a 15-credit core and a 15-credit specialization. The specialization must be declared no later than semester 6. Each specialization's coursework requirements are specified after the Critical Tracking section. Students must earn a minimum grade of C in a course for it to be applied to the major. A minimum 15 credits of major-related courses must be completed at the University of Florida.

All education sciences majors are required to attend colloquia, contribute to seminars, and participate in experiential learning.

SEMESTER 8

2.0 UF GPA required

To remain on track, students must complete the appropriate critical-tracking courses, which appear in bold.

Students are expected to complete the writing requirement while in the process of taking the courses below. Students are also expected to complete the general education international (GE-N) and diversity (GE-D) requirements concurrently with another general education requirement (typically, GE-C, H or S). One of the two general education mathematics courses must be a pure math course. A course in statistics is recommended for this major but not required.

This semester plan represents an example progression through the major. Actual courses and course order may be different depending on the student's academic record and scheduling availability of courses. Prerequisites still apply.
