Course Description Exploration of Dante's Inferno as well as the political, historical, and religious context in which Dante composed this canonical work of Italian and world literature. Taught in English.
Prerequisites LIT2000 or IUF1000 or IDS 1161
Co-requisites None

Rationale and Placement in Curriculum The Italian program already offers a course on Dante's Inferno, taught in Italian and carrying a language prerequisite. We feel that the text would also be of interest to students outside the Italian major/minor and would like, therefore, to propose a course taught in English and open to all majors/minors, including our own. We are confident that the work can be taught with the same rigor in English. A dual language edition of the Inferno will be used so that the instructor can highlight and explain, where relevant, poetic or thematic issues that involve Dante's Italian.
The course would count toward the Italian major/minor and would also welcome students not specializing in Italian.
Course Objectives By the conclusion of the course it is expected that students will:
• prove familiarity with Dante's Inferno and its context by means of comprehensive exam.
• demonstrate critical understanding, in written and oral form, of the historical and socio-political context in which Dante composed his work
• be able to critically assess, in written form and oral presentation, the literary significance of the Inferno
• engage critically with a selection of scholarly writings on Dante's text

Course Textbook(s) and/or Other Assigned Reading Inferno, Dante Alighieri, Ed. Mandelbaum, Bantam.

Additional materials such as critical essays will be available online.

Note: A grade of C- is not a qualifying grade for major, minor, Gen Ed, or College Basic distribution credit. For further information on UF's Grading Policy, see:

ATTENDANCE & MAKEUP POLICY: Attendance is mandatory and will be assessed by roll call each day. Students will lose 1% from their final grade for each unexcused absence. Absences will be excused in accordance with UF policy. Acceptable excuses include illness, religious holidays, & military obligation: https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx. Should you miss a class for any reason, you are responsible for informing yourself as to the material covered. Except in the case of certified illness or other UF accepted excuse, there will be no make-up option for missed exams/assignments. Where possible, make-ups should be arranged prior to absence. Alternatively, students should contact me on return to classes. As a rule, there will be NO MAKE UPS for unexcused absences. However, the instructor may allow students to take exams and quizzes early in certain mitigating circumstances.

Academic Honesty: Students are required to be honest in their coursework, may not use notes during quizzes or exams, and must properly cite all sources that they have consulted for their projects. Any act of academic dishonesty will be reported to the Dean of Students, and it may result in failure of assignment and/or course. For University of Florida’s honor code, see:
https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/policies/student-honor-code-student-conduct-code/

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must provide this documentation to the instructor when requesting accommodation. Contact the Disability Resources Center (http://www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/) for information about available resources.

Counseling & Mental Health Resources: Students facing difficulties completing the course or who are in need of counseling or urgent help should call the on-campus Counseling and Wellness Center (352-392-1575; http://www.counseling.ufl.edu/cwc/).

Online Course Evaluations: Students are expected to provide feedback on quality of instruction in this course based on 10 criteria. Evaluations are conducted online at https://evaluations.ufl.edu. Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at https://evaluations.ufl.edu.

Grading Scheme 1. Class Participation & Homework Preparation (15%): Homework assignments involve the reading of part of the Inferno as well as supplementary critical or contextual materials. You should carry out this work in a concentrated manner, taking notes and jotting down your questions while you read so that, when you come to class, you are ready to speak and ask questions. Class participation is not about having all the right answers. Instead, it is a question of preparing your assigned reading or viewing and being alert and active in class. It is about expressing your uncertainties and doubts about the readings as much as it is about sharing your opinion on this or that canto. It is also a question of listening to your classmates’ opinions and responding when you can. Your participation grade will therefore reflect your overall attitude and willingness to engage with the work. It will also reflect the degree to which you have prepared your reading homework and the quality of your interventions in class.

SEE LAST PAGE OF SYLLABUS FOR DETAILED PARTICIPATION RUBRIC (document uploaded separately)

2. Weekly Reading Summaries (40%): By midnight each Monday, you will be expected to email your instructor a written summary of the assigned weekly readings from the Inferno. This activity should not be viewed as a simple plot description of the readings for the week ahead, but your writing should also include your reflections on the relationship between the week’s cantos and our previous reading as well as a paragraph on any assigned critical essays. Your weekly reading summaries should be 2 pages in length (12 pt/double-spaced/1 inch margins) per week. Your first reading summary is due during the second week of the semester.

3. Class Presentation (20%): Each student will be asked to present a particular aspect of the week’s assigned readings – depending upon the number of students enrolled in the course this activity may be done in groups. We will discuss and schedule the presentations during the second week of the semester. You will provide the instructor with a copy of the notes and/or handouts used for your presentation.

4. Final Comprehensive Exam (25%): This take-home exam will consist of a series of short answer questions as well as two essay questions. The exam will cover Dante’s work in its entirety. Details will be provided in advance of the exam.
