Academic Assessment Plan for Counseling & Counselor Education Ed.D.

College of Education

A. Mission

The mission of the Counseling and Counselor Education Ed.D. program is to prepare exemplary practitioners and scholars; to generate, use and disseminate knowledge about counseling, mental health, marriage and family dynamics, learning and human development; and to collaborate with others to solve critical educational and human problems in a diverse global community. This mission aligns with the College of Education mission as well as the overall land grant, sea-grant, and space-grant mission of the University of Florida.

B. Student Learning Outcomes and Assessment Measures

SLO Type	Student Learning Outcome	Assessment Method	Degree Delivery
Knowledge	Candidates will identify and describe professional knowledge in each of the five (CACREP) common core curricular areas (Teaching, Clinical Supervision, Counseling, Research, Professional Leadership) and at least one specialty area within the counselor education context.	Written and oral qualifying examinations, and specialization exam or paper	Campus
Skills	Candidates will apply counseling, supervision, counselor education (teaching), and research associated with counselor preparation and training to their culminating experiences.	Successful completion of Clinical Internship (based on End of Term Report), Counselor Education Internship, and dissertation defense.	Campus
Professional Behavior	Candidates will engage in: (a) professional organizations, including membership benefits, activities, services to members, and current issues; (b) professional credentialing, including certification, licensure, and accreditation practices and standards, and the effects of public policy on these issues; (c) ethical standards of professional organizations and credentialing bodies, and applications of ethical and legal considerations in professional counseling.	Candidates will seek membership in Professional Associations (e.g. ACA, AAMFT), and/or make satisfactory progress toward becoming National Board Certified counselors or licensed mental health professionals	Campus

C. Research

Students in the Counseling and Counselor Education Ed.D. program will demonstrate knowledge of quantitative and qualitative research designs and data analytic methods; instrument development; program evaluation; and ethical and legal considerations in designing research. As a result, students will demonstrate their ability to delineate an area of proposed research; demonstrate sound knowledge of the research area and its literature; effectively communicate orally and in writing about the proposed research; and demonstrate their ability to complete research in the proposed area. These abilities will be demonstrated by means of the student's successful completion of a dissertation proposal presentation to their supervisory committee (See Assessment 4).
