Description of request	The School of Music Faculty has approved the separation of our current Music Theory and Aural Skills courses into two separate offerings. This means that the written Music Theory work will be a separate course from the Aural Skills portion. We believe this separation will be a better fit for our students who enter UF with a wide variety of musical backgrounds and musical training.

Course Description Students will be able to analyze harmonically, using Roman numerals, music of the common practice period which includes all harmonic materials studied to date

Borrowed chords, Neapolitan 6th chords, and Augmented 6th chords. The study of forms from the 18th and 19th Centuries.

Prerequisites Music Theory 2

Co-requisites MVK 2121 or MVK 2222

Rationale and Placement in Curriculum This is the third course in a four-course sequence which is required for all music majors. We are separating the written work from the aural work in order to give students the ability to place into courses as determined by the placement exam or completion of Music Theory 2.

Course Objectives Students will be able to partwrite in four-voice chorale style:

- primary and secondary triads in root position and inversion
- diatonic 7th chords, individually and in sequence
- secondary dominant 7th and secondary leading-tone chords
- common (by chord classification) and less common (retrogression and elision) chord progressions

Students will be able to:

- modulate by pivot chord to closely related keys and chromatically to distant keys

- write stylistically short 18th or 19th century compositions for instruments and/or voices
- write for transposing instruments

Course Textbook(s) and/or Other Assigned Reading Benward, Bruce and Gary White. Music in Theory and Practice. (Dubuque, IA: Brown & Benchmark, 2015) Volume II, 9th edition. (text and workbook)

Links and Policies Academic Honor Policy – UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Honor Code (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/>) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

Students Requesting Accommodations due to Disabilities - Students with disabilities requesting accommodations should first register with the Disability Resource Center (352-392-8565, www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/) by providing appropriate documentation. Once registered, students will receive an accommodation letter which must be presented to the instructor when requesting accommodation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester.
