To Whom It May Concern:

On behalf of the University of Florida School of Music, I am happy to write this letter in support of the proposed Undergraduate Certificate in Music in Medicine. Upon review by the School of Music Curriculum Committee, we find no potential conflict with our curriculum and, in fact, feel it represents a likely path of interest for many of our students.

Respectfully,

To whom it may concern:

The Honors program is pleased that a course we pioneered is involved in a new certificate program. The course, "Music and Health", has been taught as an Honors course for several years by Dr. Miriam Zach and has received very positive reviews from students. The new certificate program, "Music and Medicine", will have this course as a required component of the certificate.

While it is still going to be an Honors course, we look forward to having non-Honors students enrolled in the course. As the certificate gets started, we don't mind opening the enrollment of the course to a larger audience.

One of the characteristics of a thriving Honors Program is that things we pioneer become mainstream. So we consider this a positive development, and hope more of our courses go mainstream.

Sincerely,
