Faculty members play a central role in shared governance at UF, in units at every level:

- University
- College
- Departments and Centers
- And even Statewide
1. Mutuality, Collegiality and Collaboration

   Faculty and administration express support for responsibilities of one another
   Either faculty or administration can call meetings of unit
   Unit has a joint process for setting priorities for unit resources

2. Transparency

   Faculty and administration regularly report to one another
   Unit has processes that establish open meeting requirements
   Unit has readily available written guidelines & policies
3. Representative Participation
   Faculty elect members and/or chairs for faculty committees
   The unit has an elected body with elected leadership that represents faculty views

4. Mutual Accountability
   Unit engages in regular evaluation of timeliness of responses to requests for information and consultation
   Unit regularly assesses effectiveness of shared governance and makes modifications where necessary

5. Clarity of Roles
   Unit has policy for areas of faculty and administration responsibilities for determination, recommendation, and consultation
   Unit has due process rules for resolution of differences between faculty and administrators
• BOT and President verbally acknowledge the importance of shared governance
• Faculty view participation in shared governance as a worthwhile faculty responsibility
• Institution fosters SG by maintaining reasonable workloads & supporting service work
• Faculty members can express dissenting views on governance without reprisal
• Campus climate supports a diversity of ideas
• Relationships between faculty, administrators, and governing board are cooperative
• Communications are transparent and carried out in good faith
• Given reasonable time, the faculty, administrators, and board respond expeditiously to requests from each other
• Faculty committees determine educational policy, curriculum design, curriculum review, and standards for evaluating teaching and scholarship
• Faculty committees largely determine standards for hiring, retention and promotion of faculty
• Faculty sets agendas, chooses representatives and leadership, and establishes procedures for committees that oversee those areas in which the faculty has primacy
• Faculty has an influential role in developing the institutional budget
• The faculty has a strong influence on the selection and evaluation of academic administrators
The Faculty Senate shall be the legislative body of the University, thereby providing a forum for mutual exchange of ideas between senior officers and faculty.

In this capacity, the Senate shall take cognizance of, and may legislate with respect to matters which concern more than one college, school, or other major academic unit, or which are otherwise of general university interest.
• Senate members are elected proportionally according to the number of faculty in each college (with a maximum of 25), for a total of 150 Senators

• The Faculty Senate is designed to be a deliberative body in which active and evolving discussion with colleagues shapes policy

• Accordingly, no proxy or absentee votes are allowed

POSITIONING UF FACULTY ON THE NATIONAL STAGE

The role of UF Communications
UF Communications’ mission

• To inform, connect, advocate and promote
• To advance and protect the university’s image and reputation and to communicate to audiences throughout Florida, the nation and the world
• To link the university to government, community and business leaders, alumni, students, faculty, employees, higher education colleagues and the Gator Nation
UF Communications’ strategies

Strategy #1: Build a culture in which faculty and colleges see the value of public engagement and collaborate with University Relations to broaden that engagement.

Strategy #2: Position UF as a national thought leader and problem-solver.

Strategy #3: Employ creative storytelling with high-impact visuals to draw more readers/viewers to UF’s content on social, web and traditional channels.

Strategy #4: Sustain and build upon core University Relations activities that are critical to protecting and enhancing UF’s reputation.
How UF faculty can engage in these efforts:

- Take advantage of conferences and other public appearances to share your work with your peers
- Share your research and achievements with your college communicators
- Be willing to the extent you feel comfortable to interact with members of the media, who can amplify your achievements to a larger audience
