Chris Janelle delivered FAR Report.

- UF participated in the NCAA Student Athlete Health and Wellness survey; the data collected from across NCAA schools will be presented in a forthcoming NCAA report.
- The last time student athletes completed a survey on the tutoring services was a couple of years ago. It may be time to survey student athletes again about tutoring.
- The survey on post-graduate outcomes of student athlete alumni commenced on August 15, and remains open for further sampling. Preliminary data show higher rates of participation from alumni over 40 years old. Further data and analysis are forthcoming.

Chris Janelle, Jamie McCloskey, Jeff Guin, and Ashley Klingenberg explained various aspects of the transfer portal and fielded questions from the committee. The committee is interested in the impact of the transfer portal on the student athlete's academic experience.

New Initiatives: The committee will work on revising and updating the website. Using metadata, the committee will be able to make informed decisions about what activities should be continued, revised, or reconsidered.

Jeff Guin is part of a workgroup that is looking at piloting a program where students enroll in a required course such as introduction to statistics and they will be given additional instruction and support instead of being required to take a remedial course.

Ashley Klingenberg reported on the SAC and the student athlete initiative around mental health and well-being.

Meeting was adjourned at 11:30 AM
