Proposed Changes Delete one required course: RED3312 - Content Area Literacy (3 credits)

Add one required course: TSL3323 - Reading & ESOL for Teachers (3 credits)

Pedagogical Rationale/Justification The Florida Teaching Minor is an alternative certification program that prepares students for temporary teacher certification in Florida. In response to changes in Florida DOE certification requirements the current reading course (RED3312) is being changed to a more recently developed course that addresses reading and ESOL competencies (TSL3323).

Impact on Other Programs No impact on other programs or gen ed requirements.

Catalog Copy Yes

The Florida Teaching minor is an alternative certification program, specifically a Professional Training Option (PTO) meant to prepare students for temporary teacher certification in Florida by completing the professional education coursework necessary for certification.

Related Programs

The minor requires completion of coursework in the professional preparation areas of human development and learning, assessment, classroom management, instructional strategies, reading competency and curriculum and special methods. Students will have extensive opportunities to integrate their teacher education coursework with actual classroom experience.

The minor is open to undergraduates with a major other than mathematics, science or education. Students with majors in mathematics or science should refer to the UFTeach minor.

Admission to this minor requires a cumulative 2.5 GPA. Students must make written application for admission to the minor in G416 Norman Hall after 45 credits and before earning 100 credits. For additional information, students can speak with an advisor in the College of Education Student Services office in G416 Norman Hall or refer to the College of Education.

More Info

Those pursuing the minor are encouraged to complete the Florida Teacher Certification Examination (FTCE) General Knowledge Test (recommended in sophomore/junior year), the FTCE Subject Area Exam (recommended early in senior year) and the FTCE Professional Education Test (recommended mid-senior year).

More Info

FTCE tests are not required for award of the minor, but they are required for certification.
