(1) Both scenarios keep the number of fall and spring days equal. Scenario 1 starts fall semester later on Monday, August 26, with no classes on the Wednesday prior to Thanksgiving. Scenario 2 starts fall semester earlier on August 22 with Monday and Tuesday of Thanksgiving week also having no classes. Both scenarios begin one week later and shift spring break to align with Alachua County Public School's spring break.

NOTE: The spring break week will shift from year to year, depending on when ACPS sets its break.

(2) Because ACPS does not publish its academic calendar beyond one year in advance, UF will know spring break dates only one year in advance.

(3) The number of class days in Summer A and Summer B remain the same.

(4) Note that the Florida BOG no longer requires a minimum of 220 class days as was required when the 2024-2025 calendar was originally approved.

(5) Constraints: The week of December 16 is designated for degree certification. Summer start and end dates must not change to allow for needed time to prepare for the start of Summer A, Summer B, and Fall terms.

Rows highlighted in blue show a change from the approved 2024-2025 calendar.
